PFEIFFER

Dear Josh,

Thanks for the John Scott reference, for ~~your~~ your note to Dr. Burnell, and for the Opera Ring and Spanish supper! There is nothing more that you owe me by way of reference material. I've located Fred Mettler's paper on cerebral evolution.

I had a Chinese meal with Sherry Washburn the evening after our Spanish meal, and he may be coming east during the first ten days or so of February (I'll know more about this in a month or so). That only means that I'd be coming to the San Francisco region later in the month than I'd expected--and that may mean that the euphenics interview will probably be in your hands long before then, and may well be returned to THINK. There's no point delaying it until later in February or so. In any case, we shall have a chance for a running discussion not attached to an article which will also be fun.

Under separate cover I'm sending you and Esther a book. I hope Esther can get you to read it, but at least she'll tell you about it.

And thanks for the time you gave me. I feel that this is the first time we've really met.

Yours,

John
